Premedical Education:

Pennsylvania State University,
February, 1959 to June, 1962.

Medical School Education:

Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, September, 1962 to June, 1967.

Internship:

Albert Einstein Medical Center. Medical Internship including a two-month elective rotation in Psychiatry, June, 1967 to June, 1968.

Psychiatric Residency:

Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital. In the first year of my residency,
I was involved in inpatient work; I was trained in one to one psychotherapy, use of psychotropics, group therapy and milieu therapy. This was a three-year residency during which I actively participated in teaching medical students interviewing techniques on medical wards, acting as a psychiatric supervisor for medical students on psychiatric rotation and teaching emergency psychiatric care in the emergency room. During the last year of my residency, I was interested in art therapy and I supervised two art therapy students. During that year, I also was an editor of the Hahnemann Forum (the Hahnemann Psychiatric Journal). June, 1968 to June, 1971.

U.S. Army:

Chief of the Department of Psychiatry and Neurology at U.S. Reynolds Army Hospital (May, 1972 to June, 1973). I served as director of the Fort Sill Drug Program. I lectured to unit commanders and future commanders on a talk entitled "How To Be A Helping Person" as part of the preventive psychiatry at commanders could utilize for their troops. I supervised psychiatric technicians in patient evaluation and psychotherapy and taught social work/psychology specialists classes on schizophrenia and psychoanalytic theory. Much time was spent in departmental organization and administrative duties. I spent one week in San Francisco surveying, teaching and learning about drug problems in the service and in civilian life. July, 1971 to June, 1973.
